Farmers – Scientist Interaction under MGMG programme

A Farmers-Scientist interaction was organized at Harsolov village of Merta tehsil in Nagaur District on 24 February 2016. Dr. N.V. Patil, Director, NRCC Camel Bikaner was the chief guest of the function and briefed about the MGMG programme. Dr. A. K. Patel, Head, RRS CSWRI, Bikaner explained about various sheep and wool development programme initiated by State and Central Govt., Dr. A.K. Mishra, CAZRI Jodhpur highlighted the various programme related to increasing agricultural productivity through livestock farming system and also highlighted Sawach Bharat Abhiyan. Dr R.N. Kumawat elaborated improved package of practices for crops. Dr. M. Patidar, coordinator of the programme, emphasized the importance of integrated farming systems for food nutrition and food security. The problems of farmers regarding marketing, collection, low price of milk, forced maturity of crops due to increase in temperature and weeds in the village were discussed. Fifty farmers participated in the programme.

